The planetary positions in a birth chart play a great role in one's life. Generally the planets are influencing humans in 2 ways. One is the major and the minor planetary period influences. Another is the transit effects in various signs of the zodiac. The major and minor periods will bring the good or bad results in life depend upon their positions at the time of birth in the birth chart; but the results of the transits of planets depend up on the sign / house they are transiting.

The planetary effects on human life depend upon the karmic deeds of a person's previous birth. In our every birth the good or bad deeds done by us are accountable in the God's book. We take birth based on these karmic deeds of past births and experiences happiness or unhappiness in this birth by the effects of planets – who are the representatives of God. Saturn is Destiny planet. This planet acts as a justificatory authority to decide our fate of life during its transit influence. Saturn is known as “Ayush Karaka” – “Planet for Longevity” and “Jeevana Karaka” – “Planet for Profession”. Well placed Saturn in a birth chart blesses long span of live and satisfied growth in career life; while poorly placed Saturn brings health sufferings or unsuccessful in professional life.

Sincere prayers, performing remedies with trust in spirituality and honesty will help us to face or to overcome the difficulties happened by Saturn transit.

Saturn is the slow moving planet and the events resulted by this planet will also materialize slowly in a person's life. Saturn transits in a zodiac sign approximately for a period of 2 ½ years.
